++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Wet morning for most, turning fine later. Thunderstorms possible Friday.

Today:
A dry day for Cornwall with sunny spells. Further east, cloud and some showery outbreaks, potentially thundery at first, will gradually clear eastwards to leave drier, brighter, and sunnier weather in its wake. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
A fine and mild evening with late sunshine. Staying mostly dry overnight, but some thick cloud and heavy, possibly thundery, showers clipping far eastern parts through the small hours. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Friday:
Starting fine for many, but cloud and showers, some heavy and potentially thundery, move across eastern parts by late morning. Staying largely dry with sunny spells for Cornwall. Breezy. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Sunny spells with the odd shower on Saturday. Turning unsettled for Sunday and Monday, with sunny spells, heavy showers and a risk of thunder.
